(Leilani Salter will also speak. Then, y'all will cut the ceremonial ribbon.)

I'm pleased to participate in the launch of MS Digital Daily.com, a new online news edition in Mississippi.

The need for information knows no limits, and I congratulate Denton Gibbes, Leilani Salter and their entire team at MS Digital Daily for this innovative approach.

This is a unique news website that allows reader contribution.

In addition to its paid staff of writers and photographers, readers can create a user name and become contributors.

Readers can post video and photos and will especially enjoy posting obituaries and weddings at no charge.

It's Mississippi's newest entry in a fast-changing technological world.
